Two For U-High—

BONJOUR, BONJOUR, MES ENFANTS!

When you will read this, I probably will be back in my country. I say probably, because I wonder if I really want to go back (even if French people are great, and you know they are!) I would like to thank you for having given to me these days in U-High, that I am not ready to forget.

The experience was most enjoyable. I feel I learned a lot about the U.S., about the American people, about my own country (I sometimes had to check in U-High Library's World Atlas for information about France), and also about myself.

Besides that, I will go back with a better knowledge of English. "Gonna be fun" talking with a Midwest accent in French schools where they try to give you an Oxford intonation.

Anyway, I'll remember the football games, the basketball games, and all that typical American stuff: cheerleaders, pom pom girls etc. that I really got to appreciate and, of course, speech activities with all the speech team kids, Miss Brandt, and NATURELLEMENT Monsieur Tourangeau!

I must not forget the faculty and Mr. Schuler who have been very nice to me as well as helpful.

Let me tell you a little story. During the AFS selection in France I remember having been asked, "Where would you like to go?" I said, "Anywhere on a coast, but NOT in the center." Look where I landed?

I also would like to thank the AFS club for everything they did for me, (even if I didn't attend all the meetings.)

Get ready. I'll be back one day!

Till then, SALUT LES MECQUES ET MERCI!

Beloute
Guillaud!

Beloute Guillard
(Ha! Ha! It is Guillaud!)

P.S. If you're lost in France, you know where to go.

Better Than One

Dear U-High friends,

Homesick? What does it mean? I think it is the only English word I could never understand. It isn't because I had an ineffective English teacher but only because I had such a wonderful time during the year I spent in Normal. Coming from a small hamlet of only 52 inhabitants (51 when I was here) to a town of more than 26,000 is quite a change.

The family who hosted me for the year was terrific, and I felt like their son since the beginning of my experience. I appreciate above all the understanding and the freedom they gave me.

Whatever happens to me, I will always be proud to say, "I was a student at University High School, one of the best schools you can find in Illinois." I enjoyed all my classes and particularly speech and my independent study on computers, both of which aren't taught in the Swiss high schools. I found the teachers effective, open minded, and easy-going in their lessons.

The clubs were another part of the American way of life that I liked. In the school activities, I was really delighted to be in two plays, OLIVER and THE BOYFRIEND, and I learned a lot about drama.

So I want to thank all the students at U-High who helped me to come overseas and have such a good time here. Even if I did suffer a little during the AFS week on the day when I had to shut-up and skip. I have quickly forgiven the AFS Club, because their members and their great president were very helpful in taking care of any needs of mine.

Unfortunately, the year I spent here went too fast. My big problem was that days had only 24 hours, and so I couldn't do all that I wanted to do. I learned a lot about your way of living, your customs and the good and bad sides of America. I hope you know something about my country too, now.

I will miss all of you,
"ENCORE MILLE FOIS MERCI, DE TOUT MON
COEUR, MERCI!!"

New initiates Carol Claus, Janet Allen, Lynn Jochums, Paul Gilmore, Melody Tussing, Gayle Metcalf, Robbi Hartman and Kyung Ha share ideas for the 1973-74 school year over punch and cake after induction into the Honor Society.

Honor Society attempted to disprove the stereotype of its being an elite, "brainy" group by becoming involved in service projects. Throughout the year members tutored fellow students who needed assistance in doing academic work. They sponsored a unique freshman orientation that featured tours, special area information and entertainment. In December, Honor Society gave a Christmas party for a head start class. The children enjoyed it so much that the members returned in February for Valentine's Day. Finally in May Honor Society helped to plan a student oriented graduation.

Spring initiate Carol Claus meets informally with Honor Society members Mike Degnan and Jim Ivey.

Macbeth

"I don't know why it works—but it does!" This was the general reaction of the public to MACBETH—A STUDY, U-High's 1973 contest show. For a high school even to attempt to do Shakespeare causes heads to wag. But for a high school to do a forty minute cutting, which is the specified length according to IHSA rules for contest shows, of the TRAGEDY OF MACBETH is unheard of. The fact that MACBETH—A STUDY took fourth place at State this year indicates that it did work and was a success.

A great deal of hard work and tremendous effort went into MACBETH on the part of Miss Brandt, its director, and all of the students who participated either on the crew or as cast members.

Cast of Eighty Stages Oliver

What happens when fifty high school students and thirty little boys ages 9-14 are added together? No, not a state of extreme chaos—but a production of OLIVER. The fall show presented by the Drama Department was such a production. In addition to the fifty enthusiastic high school students, Miss Brandt, the director, felt it was necessary to add thirty equally enthusiastic boys who were members of the Singing Y'ers, an elite local boys' choir under the direction of Mr. Henry Charles.

Unlike other productions at U-High, OLIVER was cast the previous spring. Costumes and crew work began then and continued throughout the summer. OLIVER had the largest cast of any U-High production to this date. It put special demands on the cast by setting a record of the most performances given by a play at U-High: five.

The Sowerberrys (Clay Hulet and Pat Townley).

One of Fagin's Boys (Scott Justfig), Fagin (Marc Boon).

Nancy (Janet Allen), One of Fagin's Boys (Mike Godwin), Bet (Mary Paxton), Oliver (Dennis Gibson).

One of Fagin's Boys (Dale Pointer), Charlie (Paul Gilmore).

One of the London Street People (Jane Sperry), Artful Dodger (Mike Nott).

Mr. Bumble (Gib Charles) and Mrs. Corney (Anne Lynde).

Maisie (Mary Paxton), Dulcie (Kim Eversizer), Bobby (Mike Nott), Alphonse (Dominique Freymond), Marcel (Mark Feaster), Fay (Celia Hicklin).

Polly (Jayne Bolen),
Tony (Jim Ivey).

The Boyfriend

THE BOYFRIEND personified spring. That's the feeling a person got when looking at U-High's last musical of the year, THE BOYFRIEND. The springy atmosphere of white pants and suspenders, rose-covered trellises, moonlight and palm trees is also carried through by the plot of spring fever in the twenties. It's that time of year when everyone falls in love, Bobby and Maisie, Tony and Polly, Percival and Kiki, ad infinitum. The happy ending of the play (where everyone gets engaged) tells also of a very successful year for U-High's speech and drama department. A nice way and a nice play to finish the school season.

Running Requires Discipline

With only three returning seniors, rebuilding became the major occupation of the mostly young inexperienced U-High cross-country team. One runner who was not inexperienced was three year letter winner, Paul Gilmore. Coach Mike Macesich called him an "outstanding" runner. He won four firsts in dual meets and ran the number one berth on the team all year, despite trouble with his back. Frank Bommarito, a sophomore, consistently ran second on the team. Coach Macesich eagerly anticipates next season when over half the team will be juniors who were active as sophomores this year. One of the reasons U-High lags behind in cross-country is that conditioning doesn't begin until just before school resumes. Next year Coach Macesich wants to initiate a summer conditioning program. The biggest obstacle to a cross-country runner is a mental one, claims Coach Macesich. "Mentally they don't feel they can go hard for three miles and finish the race." Preparing the runners mentally for the long run is what cross-country is all about.

In the heat of August the harriers run miles to get in condition for the fall meets.

Large Turn-Out Nets Frosh Winning Season

Strength is in numbers and the freshman football team verified the saying as they scrambled to a 5-2-1 season backed by 31 players. Coach James Brownlee attributed the winning record to an outstanding team effort. Mike Flowers and Tim Hutson were the leading ground gainers. Other individuals singled out for comment were Steve Fleming, Tom Chiodo and Scott Prillaman. Looking to the future, Coach Brownlee speculated, "They have the potential for an outstanding junior and senior year."

Improvement in every fundamental skill in the game marked the gains made by the sophomore football squad this year. The team matured physically as well as mentally. Their record improved too. They beat three teams that they lost to as freshmen. Coach Scott praised many of the players who had not played as freshmen, but because of diligent persistence did play as sophomores. The team's potential is powerful and next year's varsity will probably see action from individuals on this year's sophomore team.

Pioneer Gridders Grab Championship

Desheeting the Chillicothe Ghosts for the Heart of Illinois Conference Championship in a record 60-14 victory marked a successful conclusion to an outstanding season for the U-High gridders. The victory climaxed the efforts of a small team that as underclassmen had not stored up winning records. "They were a small group as freshmen but they stuck together and really made it gell," said Coach Frank Chiodo. From a coaching standpoint the year was most gratifying because the team had matured from inexperienced players to a championship team. Hal Chiodo, Jack Eddy and Bruce Naffziger were named to the All-Intercity Football Squad. Larry Olson, Marion Kiesewetter, Rob Knapp and Hudson Venerable were selected to the All-Conference squad.

Swimmers limber up before a meet.

Facing some of the toughest swim teams in the state, the U-High swim team managed to attain a respectable record. "U-High is able to compete with the good schools because the kids contribute. In the end the hard work beats the talent," observed Coach Jim Scott. For example, in the district swim meet U-High was pegged to place sixth or seventh, but the swimmers surpassed the predictions and finished fourth place. Rich Alexander, the only Pioneer to advance to state, set a school record in the 400 yd. freestyle when he swam it in 3:55.5 minutes in a meet against Springfield. Throughout the year Alexander was the top U-High swimmer and ranked in the top five best swimmers in the state. Tim Raube, a first year diver, was the most improved swimmer. Outstanding performances were given by Jim Bass, Casey Lartz, Tim Eaton and Terry Thomas.

Frosh Improve with Experience

The won-loss record of the freshman basketball team doesn't reflect the growth they experienced in their first year of playing together. Coach James Brownlee explained that U-High freshman teams never have worked with each other before and consequently the first year is spent on creating team cohesiveness. Making a comeback from a 72-50 deficit to a 71-64 victory over Pontiac was the highlight of the season. With over 300 points to his credit Bob Hicks was the top scorer for the young Pioneers. Coach Brownlee cited John Friedhoff as the most improved player. By the middle of next season Mr. Brownlee believes the team will be beating many of the schools they lost to this year.

Junior Dominated Team Builds for Future

Having snared another rebound, Brady Smith searches for an opening.

Commencing the season with only one returning letterman, Tim Edwards, the varsity basketball team lacked depth and experience. Coach Metcalf indicated that the inconsistency in rebounding and ball handling and shooting plagued them all year. The 80-72 victory over Pontiac, and the first half of the second game with Central Catholic were the most exciting moments of the year. Tim Edwards and Terry Armstrong led the team in scoring with 370 points and 345 points respectively. Brady Smith with 233 rebounds was the leading rebounder.

Wrestlers Starve Selves in Hopes of Victory

Long practice, gallons of sweat, and small meals helped Jack Eddy, Bruce Naffziger, and Dan Murphy to advance to the state wrestling meet. The records of these grapplers (Eddy, 31-2; Murphy, 25-6; Naffziger, 27-4) were impressive. Commenting on the team's performance throughout the year Coach Girardi said, "We did a heck of a job under pressure." Coach Girardi praised the performances of Mark Brown, Bill Funk, and Don Murphy. Ron Biddle and Bruce Naffziger made the most improvement in the season. The team voted Jack Eddy and Bruce Naffziger co-most valuable wrestlers.

The team elected Marion Kiese-wetter and Hudson Venerable most valuable players for the season. The two turned in some impressive times during the year. At the Honor Roll meet, Marion ran the 440 yd. dash in 51.4. Hudson Venerable recorded a 220 yd. dash in 23.1 at a dual meet during the year. The tracksters' dual meet record was 5-1-1.

Divoters Dig to 130-15-5 Record

The divoters won three tournaments, had a win-loss record of 130-15-5, and finished ninth in the State meet.

The team was led by Bob Milligan, the team's most valuable award winner, J. B. Stevens, Mike Venker, Deon Miller and Tom Venker.

Among the team's accomplishments were a first place finish in the St. Bede Invitational, first in the Heart of Illinois Conference Tournament, first in the Intercity Tournament, Second in the District, second in the Sectional, fourth in the prestigious Quincy Invitational and ninth in the season's climax, the State meet.

During the year the Pioneers also received great individual performances from their players. Milligan won the Sectional and Intercity crowns as well as tying for fifth at Quincy. Stevens led the Pioneers at the State with an eleventh place finish and Mike Venker helped lead the team through the District and Sectional with two very fine rounds. Tom Venker finished second in the conference.

Bob Milligan concentrates on sinking a putt.

Schroeder, Fairbairn Lead Improved Netters

On a cloudy day Deon Miller lines up a putt on the wind-swept green.

In practice John Friedhoff sharpens his backhand.

"The best year so far," noted tennis coach Frank Chiodo of the U-High tennis team. As the quality of high school tennis improved, so did the record of the Pioneer tennis team which was 5-6-1 this year as opposed to last year's 2-10-1. Mark Schroeder was elected most valuable player. Tom Fairbairn defended his number one position on the team all year. With only one senior on the varsity team this year, next year's team will be endowed with lots of experience.

Freshmen Get Taste of U-High

This year's Freshman Class jumped right into high school life. They promptly devised money-making projects for financing Class Night. With the guidance of their sponsors, Mrs. Barbara Blunk and Mr. Kenneth Keys, they sold Beich's candy and record albums. They also expressed their spirit and enthusiasm by participating in extra-curricular activities and showing an interest in academic subjects. One indication of this was the fact that a record number of athletes turned out for freshman sports. Their first year record shows promise of even greater achievement.

Sophomores Choose Class Rings

Sophomore Class officers Chris Girardi, president; Lynda Brill, treasurer; Laurel Foreman, vice president; and Laurie Thoennes, secretary, discuss upcoming activities.

Busy days for the Sophomore Class were those preceding the early December sale of class rings. For the first time in U-High history the students chose the company to sell the rings. A committee examined rings and listened to the sales representatives of three companies. Balfour, represented by Mr. Bob Eckermann, was selected because they offered a larger variety of rings and a more definite price list. The sophomores built their treasury by selling Christmas candles. Mrs. Ruth Ann Friedberg and Mr. William Fritz are sponsors of the class.

Class of '75

The Junior Class spent most of their fall and spring working to reach their goal of $2,500 with which to finance Prom. They held pop bottle drives, garage sales, and magazine subscription campaigns, but their biggest financial project was the lounge coke bar, from which they dispensed pop, candy bars, and pop corn after school and at school functions such as lock-ins, speech contests, and athletic events. Miss Mary McCormick and Mrs. L. Louese Pilch provided guidance for the class.

Junior Class officers Jayne Bolen, secretary; Cindy Fuess and Robbi Hartman, selling chairmen; Joe Evans, vice president; and Kara Janusch, president, take their own coke break.

Seniors Thank
Mrs. Lynn, Mr.
Blair, Mrs.
Fielding

As Student Council Sponsor Mrs. Lynn adds a finishing touch to the Christmas tree.

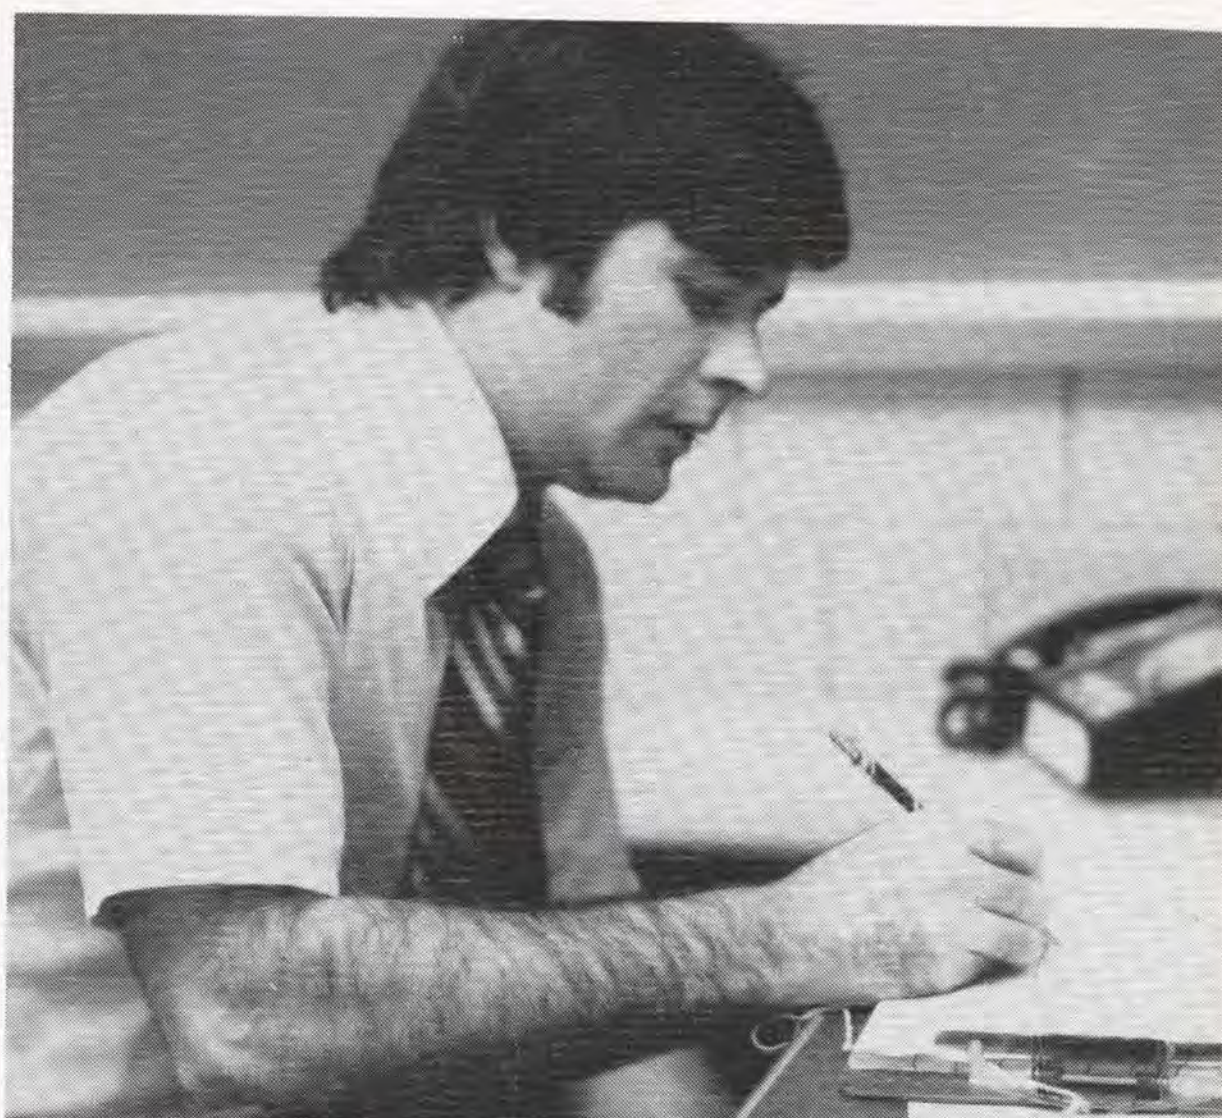

Mrs. Lynn instructs Mary Leary, a junior, in her typing class.

Mr. Blair consults with Mrs. Fielding about senior class graduation announcements.

The Graduating Class of 1973 dedicates these two pages to our sponsors of the last four years. We thank Mrs. Mary Ann Lynn, Mrs. Eileane Fielding and Mr. Kenneth Blair for their interest and contributions of time and thought. Mrs. Lynn aided us for the first three years as sponsor. Her suggestions were especially helpful when we needed to make money for Prom. When she became sponsor of Student Council this year she relinquished the class sponsorship to Mrs. Fielding, who joined us during the junior year, and Mr. Blair.

Mr. Blair schedules appointments with seniors to discuss post-high school plans.

Mrs. Fielding pauses to eye a boisterous senior.

A friendly bank teller displays a variety of checkbooks to Janet Young and Marc Boon.
